

Shifting the DelMarVa Plasticulture

Agricultural plastic use, or plasticulture, poses both a problem and an opportunity to farmers and suppliers of agricultural materials. Improper disposal of plastic not only harms the environment, but wastes a valuable product in the plastic itself. We envision a company that local farmers in the DelMarVa region can rely on for waste management that both protects the environment from plastic waste, and incentivises recycling, shifting the plasticulture towards reuse.

Our Team:

Krisztina
Christmon

Benjamin
Rickles

Alba Torrents,
PhD